To Whom It May Concern:

Our records go back to 1996 doing business with Calvac Paving. Each project whether it be a patch, a full parking lot, cement repairs or striping, they have risen to the challenge. Their ability to cooperate with our schedules and go above and beyond has made this part of my job a breeze.

I would like to share one example. In 2001, when a new boss arrived and we had some paving to do, another company was hired. While they were working I was on vacation. After the job was completed, something wasn't right. The directional arrows in the parking lot had been painted backwards. Since my team had worked with Calvac before they called and asked them to fix it. And they did! Even though it wasn't their job to fix!

I didn't realize until weeks later how this had played out. I never saw a bill, phone call or anything to tell me what they had done. Just having a long standing relationship put everything in order. This is just one example of the customer service Calvac provides. Please don't hesitate to use their services!
